Medical Marijuana is now a reality in Florida. In order to prepare, some local governments have passed temporary moratoriums and some have engaged special legal counsel to navigate the evolving legal issues that their local governments are sure to face. As a follow-up to the previous FCCMA training last fall (before voter approval), this special FCCMA training will focus on how governments are handling the temporary moratorium follow-up, as well as other key planning considerations, and how they are/should be handling personnel issues relative to the use of marijuana. Again, this is an evolving issue in Florida. This is an excellent opportunity to receive the latest information affecting your agency in an informal setting with legal experts in the planning and human resources fields.

SPEAKERS

- Susan Trevarthen, Attorney, Weiss Serota Helfman Cole and Bierman
- Allison Smith, Attorney, Weiss Serota Helfman Cole and Bierman
