Chattahoochee Onsite Training Session

In today's 24-hour news media and social networking environment, local government employees are challenged with how to respond to misinformation, micro-analysis, and disrespectful comments. Tallahassee Assistant to the City Manager Michelle Bono and Chattahoochee City Manager Lee Garner will lead a discussion of this topic and offer attendees an opportunity to identify "real issues" and work through ideas on how best to prepare and respond to their challenges. September 20, 2012 Webinar - Grant Writing Tips and Strategies

Thursday, September 20, 2012 (2:00 - 3:00 pm)
 In an economic climate marked by shrinking tax bases and decreasing revenues, the importance of grants as a potential source of funding has grown greatly. Understanding and navigating the world of grants can be difficult. On September 20, join experts Don Lanham, Grants Program

Coordinator for Leon County, and Stephanie Waters, Grants Administrator for the City of Largo, for an exciting and informative webinar covering the in's-and-out's of the grants process. Read more.

Sanibel Onsite Training Session

"Respect & Civility: The Dynamics of Being a Local Government Official in Today's Climate" is the topic for the Onsite Training Session held in Sanibel on Friday, October 19 from 12:00 pm - 3:30 pm.

"The perception of government and how citizens and government officials interact is constantly changing. Today's focus on social media and 24-hour (so-called) news channels appears to endorse a new wave (and style) of incivility which permeates to local government. This onsite training will bring together city and county employees throughout southwest Florida to have a dialogue on how best to respond in this climate and to exchange "tips" on how to create a culture of respect and civility in providing local government services."
